1010 Richards Street

Her Royal Highness Princess Victoria Kamāmalu

Her Royal Highness Princess Victoria Kaahumanu Kihe'āhe'alani Kamāmalu was the granddaughter of Kamehameha the Great, the daughter of High Chiefess and Kuhina Nui Elisabeta Kahoanoku Kīna'u and High Chief Mataio Kekūānā'o, Governor of Oahu, sister of Alexander 'Iolani Liholiho, King Kamehameha IV, and Lot Ali'iolani Kapuāiwa, King Kamehameha V.

Princess Kamāmalu was named Kuhina Nui (co-ruler) during the reign of her brother King Kamehameha IV.
She was given the name Kamāmalu after her aunt Queen Kamāmalu who died with her husband King Kamehameha II of the measles during a visit to England.

During her infancy Princess Kamāmalu was given to John Papa 'I'i by Kīna'u who instructed him to raise her only daughter.
From birth Princess Kamāmalu was bethroned to Prince William Lunailo by the Prince's mother High Chiefess Miriam Kekāuluohi and High Chiefess Elisabeta Kahoanoku Kīna'u.
During her short life Princess Kamāmalu was an accomplished chanter, poet and was the original founder of the 'Aha Hui Ka'ahumanu, Ka'ahumanu Society, which the Princess named in honor of her aunt Queen Ka'ahumanu, Kuhina Nui and wife of Kamehameha the Great.

Princess Victoria Kamāmalu was born on November 1, 1838 and died on May 29, 1866,
