

Proclamation

WHEREAS, the first eight years of a child's life lay the foundation for success in school and later life; and

WHEREAS, early learning opportunities, including early literacy programs, can shape a better future for our children and strengthen our community's well-being; and

WHEREAS, public policies that support early learning and the health, safety and development of young children are crucial to our keiki's futures; and

WHEREAS, all children should have the opportunity to experience the type of environment that will promote early learning at home, under childcare, in school and in the community; and

WHEREAS, teachers and others who work with or on behalf of young children make a difference for our keiki and deserve appreciation and recognition; and

WHEREAS, the Hawai'i Association for the Education of Young Children (HiAEYC) promotes, supports and expands quality and professionalism in early childhood programs and services for Hawai'i's young children and their families; and

WHEREAS, in conjunction with the National Association for the Education of Young Children, HiAEYC is celebrating the Week of the Young Child by providing resources for families and early educators that encourage healthy child development and well-being;

THEREFORE I, DAVID Y. IGE, Governor of the State of Hawai'i, do hereby proclaim April 2-8, 2022 as in Hawai'i and ask the people of the Aloha State to join me in recognizing the importance of high-quality early learning and the valuable work of early childhood professionals and in continuing our investment in early childhood learning in our state.

"WEEK OF THE YOUNG CHILD"

Done at the State Capitol in the Executive Chambers, Honolulu, State of Hawai'i, this thirty-first day of March, 2022.
